

Be a Conference Sponsor!

STEM Carib 2016 will bring together attendees and conference participants representing a cross-section of local, regional and international academic communities, professionals in the field, teachers, students and the general public.

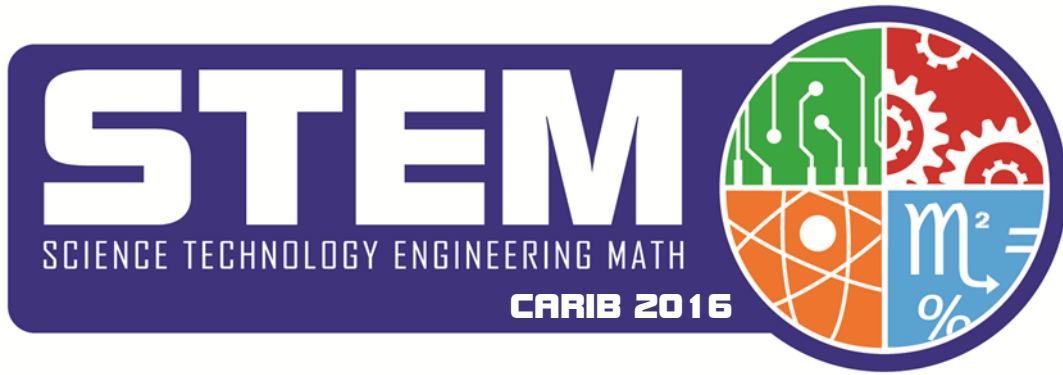

Whether you intend to contribute as a financial or in-kind sponsor, you can showcase your organisation and demonstrate your commitment to supporting Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics. Your support will help underwrite conference costs and make it easily affordable and accessible to all would-be delegates. In-kind sponsorship will be assigned to a level depending on the market value of product or service provided.

With your support, we are confident that STEM Carib 2016 will be a landmark educational event for the Cayman Islands.
